

The Ducklings

Fingerplay

All the little ducklings
Swim without a care.
(Hold hands with palms together, zigzagging back and forth.)
Heads are in the water.
(Point hands down.)
Tails are in the air.
(Point thumbs up.)

(Children like to hear the same finger plays often. This helps them to learn the words. You may need to sit with younger children and help them with the hand movements at first, or they may just want to watch.)
