

Whoo-who-who

Fingerplay

An owl sat alone on the branch of a tree,
And she was as quiet as quiet could be.
(Use arm as branch; raise thumb for owl.)

'Twas night and her eyes were wide open like this;
(Circle eyes with fingers and look around.)

She looked all around; not a thing did she miss.

Some little black birds perched on the branch of the tree,
(Fingers of other hand fly on tree.)

And sat there as quiet as quiet could be.

The solemn old owl said "Whoo-who-who,"
And up jumped the birds and away they flew.
(Wave hand away, fluttering fingers behind back.)
